The right approach at the right time Bariatric Resource Services

Introducing the Bariatric Resource Services (BRS) solution

Obesity is a serious health issue. UMR partners with Optum to provide bariatric resource services to effectively address the long-term health risks associated with morbid obesity. Surgery helps to improve or resolve many types of cancer, type 2 diabetes, hypertension, hyperlipidemia and sleep apnea in morbidly obese individuals. However, surgery is only a tool. Strict dietary, exercise and lifestyle changes are essential to long-term success.

How does the benefit work?

PHASE 1: Before surgery

Bariatric surgery is offered to you through your health plan, so your first step is to have your doctor determine if you're a candidate for bariatric surgery. You'll also want to make sure you've completed any presurgery requirements. Then, you can contact Optum BRS and connect with an Optum BRS nurse.

Pre-surgery requirement

- Complete a physician-supervised weight-loss program within two years of surgery. The BRS nurse will provide support to help you meet this requirement.
- It's important that you're emotionally prepared for surgery and for the lifestyle changes required to maintain a more healthy weight. To ensure that you're prepared, you may need to complete a behavioral health evaluation. It will determine whether you're ready for surgery and help determine any necessary adjustments.
- Check with your BRS nurse to make sure that there are not an additional requirements from your health plan that you must meet.

After pre-surgery requirements are submitted to Optum, your BRS nurse will help you locate a Center of Excellence facility for your surgery and you can then schedule your initial appointment with your surgeon.

Support, education, tools, resources and care from some of the top bariatric facilities and experts in the country to help make your journey to improved health successful.

PHASE 2: Surgery

Your Optum BRS nurse will work with your bariatric team to coordinate care with your surgeon, your primary physician and local providers. This will help ensure a smooth transition back home. Your BRS nurse will call you within 48 hours of your discharge from the hospital to support you through recovery.

PHASE 2: After surgery

Your Optum BRS nurse will call 30 days post-surgery to determine how you're progressing. Your BRS nurse will discuss with you: pain management, nutrition, dietary requirements, medications, exercise and your general health status.
